about spargo salon & day spa

NEW LOCATION

Our Salon area replicates the peristylum (garden area) of an ancient Roman house. The curved stations offer open air space while also providing privacy for each client. Our curved shampoo area features power reclining, massaging and heated chairs offering our clients additional luxury. The styling chairs and shampoo area are separated by a stunning curved glass water wall, providing a private and soothing environment. This water wall is only the second of its kind in the United States.

Our main spa waiting area provides a very comfortable environment offering travertine tables and café chairs. Inspired by a waterfall in Milan, Italy, an open stairway wraps around a custom two-story stone wall waterfall, setting the stage for comfort and providing a dramatic backdrop. Adding to the atmosphere of an ancient spa environment, several authentic Roman artifacts are featured in lighted display cases. The main spa waiting area also provides a refreshment bar, retail space, interactive video monitors, original artwork, sample skin care products, and a stone sink.

The central spa waiting area continues the emulation of a wealthy Roman house. The atrium features an impluvium (an opening in the roof of ancient Roman homes to allow collection of rain water) with a waterfall in the center of the room surrounded by columns. This atrium connects all spa treatment rooms which are named after Roman emperors who made significant contributions to the spa lifestyle. An additional relaxation area offers chaise lounges and relaxing water features. Pebbled stone floors, stone wall and trim treatments, along with original artwork come together to complete the tranquil atmosphere.
