

> SPARGO SALON & SPA

"The layout, architecture and decorations were designed after a Pompeian garden-style house. The curved styling stations offer open air space while also providing individual privacy. The stations are separated from the shampoo area by a curved glass water wall, only the second of its kind in the United States. The spa waiting area features an atrium surrounded by columns, connecting individual treatment rooms named after Roman emperors. Adding to the atmosphere of an ancient spa, several authentic Roman artifacts are displayed in cases."

Location: Pewaukee, Wisconsin
Opened: July 8, 2000
Remodeled: November 29, 2006
Owner: Douglas Saloga
Website: www.spargospa.com
Salon style: Luxurious Tuscan comfort
Square footage: 7,900
Styling stations: 11
Treatment rooms: 11
Equipment: Belvedere, Shiloh Cabinetry
Furniture: Crate & Barrel, Pottery Barn, Room & Board

Top retail lines: Aveda, Bumble and bumble, Graham Webb
Design: Doug Saloga
Architect: Doug and Ed Saloga, Saloga Builders
Judges' comments: "Use of color, textures and variety of materials create a warm and transcendent atmosphere."
 —Thompson
 "Ahhhh, Italia!"—Peter

web watch

salon today

home this issue editorial calendar subscribe archives career center

salons of the year

They're bold. They're design savvy. They'll win you over with their innovative interiors. Get the facts and get inspired by the 2006 Salons of the Year.

Grand Prize Winner: Peter Conte
 Ever wonder what a salon with no right angles and no doors with hinges would look like? Check out our grand-prize winning space in small-town New Jersey.

First Runner Up: Reaction
 A Nebraska couple brings hip, funky style to Omaha, winning clients over with their vibrant design and landing the first runner-up spot in Salons of the Year.

Visit www.salontoday.com to view more photos of our Salons of the Year. See examples of space-saving color bars, stunning treatment rooms, outside shots and more!